To Whom It May Concern:

RE: Martin Zoller

It is with pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Mr. Martin Zoller. I have known Martin for almost a decade now having met and consulted with him for the first time in [REDACTED]. During this period, consultations with Martin have provided guidance, insight and intuitive as well as strategic analysis during very critical, sensitive and serious events in both my personal and professional life which then assisted me in deciding what strategic decisions or acts should be taken. I can unhesitatingly recommend Martin to you based upon his personal integrity, professionalism, strength of character, keen interest to assist, sincerity and accuracy of his intuition and predictions.

I have been impressed by Martin's many achievements, reliability, intuition, clear guidance and accurate outcome during very critical moments. I have always enjoyed consulting with him and have relied on his, intuition, insight, foresight and guidance for myself, my family and while counseling my own clients. I have without reservation been glad to recommend him to such clients as someone I know and trust and someone they can trust. This trust is founded upon those factors already described, particularly his impeccable professionalism, intuitiveness, discretion, integrity, commitment to his client and dealing with the situation at hand. Over the last several years, I have relied on Martin's intuition and guidance immensely. He has given of his time to follow up and was and continues to be genuinely concerned for my well being and that of my family. His intuition and insights have been accurate and have provided me a great degree of comfort and relief allowing me to make strategic decisions and plan an appropriate course of action.

Martin Zoller is someone I will continue to trust and rely upon for myself, my family and my clients. I am confident that you too will find him and his strong intuitive abilities an asset to you and your clients.

Please feel free to revert to me if you so feel inclined, and with my best wishes, I remain

Sincerely yours,
